DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-7 are presented for examination on the merits.

The Preliminary amendment has been received and entered. The IDSs filed in the case have been considered as indicated on the enclosed PTO-1449 Forms.

Content of Specification

- (a) Title of the Invention: See 37 CFR 1.72(a) and MPEP § 606. The title of the invention should be placed at the top of the first page of the specification unless the title is provided in an application data sheet. The title of the invention should be brief but technically accurate and descriptive, preferably from two to seven words may not contain more than 500 characters.
- (b) Cross-References to Related Applications: See 37 CFR 1.78 and MPEP § 201.11.
- (c) Statement Regarding Federally Sponsored Research and Development: See MPEP § 310.
- (d) Incorporation-By-Reference Of Material Submitted On a Compact Disc: The specification is required to include an incorporation-by-reference of electronic documents that are to become part of the permanent United States Patent and Trademark Office records in the file of a patent application. See 37 CFR 1.52(e) and MPEP § 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text were permitted as electronic documents on compact discs beginning on September 8, 2000.

Or alternatively, Reference to a "Microfiche Appendix": See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.
- (e) Background of the Invention: See MPEP § 608.01(c). The specification should set forth the Background of the Invention in two parts:
  - (1) Field of the Invention: A statement of the field of art to which the invention pertains. This statement may include a paraphrasing of the applicable U.S. patent classification definitions of the subject matter of the claimed invention. This item may also be titled "Technical Field."

- (2) Description of the Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 37 CFR 1.98: A description of the related art known to the applicant and including, if applicable, references to specific related art and problems involved in the prior art which are solved by the applicant's invention. This item may also be titled "Background Art."
- (f) Brief Summary of the Invention: See MPEP § 608.01(d). A brief summary or general statement of the invention as set forth in 37 CFR 1.73. The summary is separate and distinct from the abstract and is directed toward the invention rather than the disclosure as a whole. The summary may point out the advantages of the invention or how it solves problems previously existent in the prior art (and preferably indicated in the Background of the Invention). In chemical cases it should point out in general terms the utility of the invention. If possible, the nature and gist of the invention or the inventive concept should be set forth. Objects of the invention should be treated briefly and only to the extent that they contribute to an understanding of the invention.
- (g) Brief Description of the Several Views of the Drawing(s): See MPEP § 608.01(f). A reference to and brief description of the drawing(s) as set forth in 37 CFR 1.74.
- (h) Detailed Description of the Invention: See MPEP § 608.01(g). A description of the preferred embodiment(s) of the invention as required in 37 CFR 1.71. The description should be as short and specific as is necessary to describe the invention adequately and accurately. Where elements or groups of elements, compounds, and processes, which are conventional and generally widely known in the field of the invention described and their exact nature or type is not necessary for an understanding and use of the invention by a person skilled in the art, they should not be described in detail. However, where particularly complicated subject matter is involved or where the elements, compounds, or processes may not be commonly or widely known in the field, the specification should refer to another patent or readily available publication which adequately describes the subject matter.
- (i) Claim or Claims: See 37 CFR 1.75 and MPEP § 608.01(m). The claim or claims must commence on separate sheet or electronic page (37 CFR 1.52(b)(3)). Where a claim sets forth a plurality of elements or steps, each element or step of the claim should be separated by a line indentation. There may be plural indentations to further segregate subcombinations or related steps. See 37 CFR 1.75 and MPEP § 608.01(i)-(p).

- (j) Abstract of the Disclosure: See MPEP § 608.01(f). A brief narrative of the disclosure as a whole in a single paragraph of 150 words or less commencing on a separate sheet following the claims. In an international application which has entered the national stage (37 CFR 1.491(b)), the applicant need not submit an abstract commencing on a separate sheet if an abstract was published with the international application under PCT Article 21. The abstract that appears on the cover page of the pamphlet published by the International Bureau (IB) of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) is the abstract that will be used by the USPTO. See MPEP § 1893.03(e).
- (k) Sequence Listing. See 37 CFR 1.821-1.825 and MPEP §§ 2421-2431. The requirement for a sequence listing applies to all sequences disclosed in a given application, whether the sequences are claimed or not. See MPEP § 2421.02.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claimed method is rendered vague and indefinite because it is unclear as to whether extraction is being carried out in the first step. The claims fail to recite clear and distinct process steps. Further the term "the region" is unclear and it is suggested to change it to --a range of--. Claims 2 and 3 lack antecedent basis for recitation of "dehydratin" at line 2. The term --said--should be inserted before it unless there is another dehydration being carried out in step 1. Furthermore, "the tissue" lacks antecedent basis in the claims because in the preamble it is referred to as tissues, thus, it is uncertain whether more than one kind of tissue is intended or what? Consistent use of terms is suggested. Claim 5, lacks antecedent basis for "the first extraction step" at line 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Schankereli (US Pat 5,782,914).

Claims are drawn to a method for dehydrating biological tissues.

Schankereli teaches production of tissue grafts wherein the steps of dehydration are carried out to obtain a water content of 10% to 70% , note col. 3, lines 45-50. Ethanol is used to extract or dehydrate the tissue. Further water is mixed in, note figure 1(A). A vacuum treatment is also employed, note col. 3, lines 10-15 and 30-35 and temperature is applied note col. 3, lines 39-40. Under pressure is applied, note col. 3, lines 10-15 and line 33.

The claims appear to be identical to the cited disclosure and are thus, considered to be anticipated by the teachings of the reference. However, in the alternative that there is some difference between what is claimed and the cited disclosure then such difference is considered to be so slight as to render the claims obvious over the cited prior art. Clearly one of skill would have been motivated by Schankereli to carry out these process steps to prepare tissue. The claims are at least prima facie obvious and no unexpected successful results have been attained with the claimed method.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schankereli as cited above in view of Druecke et al. (US Pat No. 6187137).

Claim 6 is drawn to a treatment with ultrasound, a vibrator or a shaker.

Druecke et al teach a variety of useful techniques for dehydrating, such as treatment with sonic roll, shaker roll, or vibrator roll, note col. 3, lines 38-51.

The claim differs from Schankereli in that the treatment step using these mechanical means is not disclosed.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made to select for a mechanical means for dehydrating as disclosed by Schankerli one of the useful techniques for dehydrating, such as treatment with sonic roll, shaker roll, or vibrator roll as disclosed by Druecke. Clearly one of skill would have known of these dehydration means and to select for one of these is well within the purview of a person of ordinary skill in the art. The claim is prima facie obvious.

All claims fail to be patentably distinguishable over the state of the art discussed above and cited on the enclosed PTO-892 and/or PTO-1449. Therefore, the claims are properly rejected.

The remaining references listed on the enclosed PTO-892 and/or PTO-1449 are cited to further show the state of the art.

No claims are allowed.
